Questions To ask:

What energy, space and consciousness can I be in this situation?

If there were no definitions of who, what, when, where and how I be today;

- Who would I be?
- What would I choose?
- What could I do?
- What would be possible if I didn't function from anything I have decided I have been assigned, been expecting, have decided my image is or anything I have been projected at myself?

What if you would allow yourself to be who you truly be and what if you would allow everybody else to be who and what they're choosing to be?
