Process Information

You as an infinite being have the capacity to be totally aware of everything in every ten seconds. When you choose to be aware, and acknowledge what you know, the things you have made solid can change. As its been shown in science, you can change the molecular structure of things just by looking at them. When you look at what you're creating in your life with no judgment of it, the solidity dissipates, the walls come down, the weight of the armour is lifted, and change becomes possible.

How do we start to change this? Well lucky for us there are infinite possibilities available to choose from!

One incredibly powerful tool is simply asking a question. Asking a question is really telling the universe, others and your body that you are willing to receive a different possibility and then you get to have an awareness of what those possibilities might be. Asking the questions is saying, "Hi universe I am now willing to put aside all that is not working, all the judgements, conclusions and answers and I am willing to receive a different possibility that I have not been able to think of before." Does that sound lighter for you than functioning from conclusion?

Anything in your life that is sticky, heavy, or not working is a place where you've bought a lie as true. What is true always makes you feel lighter, a lie always makes you feel heavier. When you get the awareness of what is true for you, the heaviness of the lie you were functioning from lifts and a new space of possibility is born.

Here's an example of how this works: Have you ever had a misunderstanding with somebody? Of course you have, why did I even ask that question?? Anyway, when you were in that misunderstanding was it light and fun and peaceful or was it frustrating, serious, and heavy? Most likely it was frustrating serious and heavy (though I would love to see a light fun and peaceful one!).

So lets fast-forward through all the trauma and drama now and go to the point at which the misunderstanding was resolved. When you realized it was a misunderstanding, was there a sense of peace and ease and lightness? Did you maybe even laugh about it with the person? What's true will always make you feel lighter, and a lie will always make you feel heavier. Light and heavy is not a rightness or wrongness it is an awareness.

The combination of question and the lightness of truth are how the processing in this product work. We ask a question which brings up all sorts of energy (good bad and ugly). We acknowledge the energy and use the Access Consciousness™ clearing statement which changes the energy. My favourite explanation of the clearing statement is "The question brings up the energy of what's limiting you, and the clearing statement sucks it all up like a vacuum cleaner!" So after running a process for a while you may start to sense yourself getting lighter and lighter and lighter. How that occurs is through running the process, you energetically acknowledge what is true for you (if you choose it). A thing I just love about the Access Consciousness™ clearings is that you don't have to dig through your old stuff to cognitively find what it is that messed you up in the first place! Whatever you do, don't try it!"

If you are one of those techno cognitive type persons, like me, and want to know how everything works you can always get a full explanation of the clearing statement at www.theclearingstatement.com. It was a website especially built for those of us that like to know everything! Hey you may even catch me there too.
